PREDICT RECORD TOTAL VOTE TOMORROW!

CITY READY TO BALLOT ON VARIED PROJECTS

Civic Center Local Issue While State Measures Reach Total of 18

Preparations for election day in Glendale tomorrow are complete. The polls will open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. There are thirty-eight voting precincts in the city.

A bond issue of $650,000 for a civic center will be voted upon as a local project. Then there will be the presidential electors, candidates for congressional and legislative positions, judicial candidates, county officers, state measures and a proposed county bond issue.

There are about 16,000 registered voters in Glendale and it is predicted, a record-breaking total will be cast.

A last minute call for all to vote, regardless of whom or what, was issued following a special meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Issues Statement
A statement issued from the offices of the chamber by Howard I. Wood, secretary, in part said: "Only when a majority will of the people is registered and abided by, is this great country safe, and in a position to continue to thrive and prosper. It is, therefore, the urgent appeal of the chamber of commerce that everyone in Glendale go to the polls tomorrow and vote, it matters not to this board how, just so long as the total ballot is large and representative."

This action on the part of the chamber's board is in accord with similar steps taken by virtually all chambers of commerce throughout the state.

FLAMES THREATEN TO DESTROY CITY

Volunteers Digging Trench About Suffern, N. Y., to Halt Raging Fire

SUFFERN, N. Y., Nov. 3.—A thousand volunteers, armed with picks and shovels, were digging trenches against time today as a forest fire which has blackened an area a mile wide and two miles long sped toward this city of costly homes.

Early today the blaze had reached the city limits, half a mile from the center of the industrial district.

Coolidge to Make Last Minute Talk On Radio Tonight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Confident that tomorrow's election will return him to the White House by a landslide proportionate to that of 1920, President Coolidge devoted himself today to the preparation of the "last word of the campaign" to be delivered tonight at 10 o'clock.

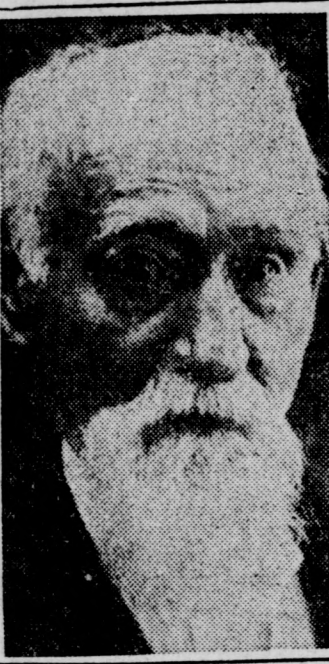

The president will confine himself this evening to an appeal to every citizen to "do his duty to his country and vote."

With twenty-four radio stations in covering the entire country hooked up for the event, the presidential utterances are expected to be heard by the largest number of people ever reached by one voice.

Indications have reached the White House that a tremendous popular vote will be polled tomorrow. According to estimates made by Bascom C. Slomp, the president's secretary, between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000 ballots will be cast, as compared with the 27,000,000 in 1920.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The daily average production of gasoline in the United States for the first time in history reached the 25,000,000 gallon mark for an entire month in September, the interior department announced today.

Because September was a short month, however, the total gasoline output, 750,000,000 gallons, was 5,000,000 gallons below that for August. The domestic demand for gasoline fell in September 100,000,000 gallons short of the high record consumption figures attained in August.

PIONEER OF HEAVY VOTE CALIFORNIA CERTAIN TO BE POLLED SUDDENLY

Last Man Who Served In Congress Under Lincoln; Famous Character

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Ex-Senator Cornelius Cole, one of the oldest men in Los Angeles, and one of the most famous characters of early California history, died at his home here today at the age of 102 years.

It was not his great age, however, that caused the death of Ex-Senator Cole, according to relatives, but an illness which became serious Saturday. Senator Cole suffered an attack of influenza six months ago. He recovered, but the illness kept him weak for a long time.

He was growing stronger, however, until two days ago, when he was attacked by incipient pneumonia. This morning a heart attack suddenly ended his life.

Retained Health
Senator Cole celebrated his 102nd birthday on September 17. It has been his proud boast for years that he felt as strong and young in his later life as he had in earlier days.

Cornelius Cole was born on September 17, 1822, in Lodi, New York. He was the last man alive who served in Congress when Abraham Lincoln was president. For the last four years he was the last member of the Senate under Lincoln still living.

He was the man who practically put through the purchase by the United States of the territory of Alaska.

In Days of Gold
Cole attended Wesleyan university, Connecticut, in 1847, and married Olive Colgrove, of Trumbull, N. Y., on January 6, 1853.

He was admitted to the bar in 1848 and went to California in 1849, being the first man of the first group of seven young men to reach Sutter's fort, near Sacramento, the site of the first gold discovery.

He worked one year in the gold fields and resumed his practice of law in 1850. He was a member of the Republican National committee from 1856 to 1860 and was district attorney of Sacramento city and county from 1859 to 1862.

Many Relatives
He was a member of the Thirty-eighth Congress from 1862 to 1865 and a member of the United States Senate from 1866 to 1873, during which he was chairman of the committee on appropriations.

A Senator Cole was the only survivor of the life members of the Pioneer Society of California. He is survived by three sons, four daughters and many grand children and great grand children.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The weather man today promised to help get out a record vote on the Pacific coast tomorrow.

Fair weather and moderate temperatures were predicted today for tomorrow in all Pacific states except Washington and Oregon where cloudy weather was in prospect with possibly light rains near the coast.

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Political leaders today were agreed on one subject in connection with tomorrow's election in California—the vote cast will be the largest in the history of the state.

With 1,822,357 voters registered and the most energetic campaign both partisan and non-partisan, to get out the vote, prospects today were, election experts said, that the vote tomorrow would go far toward lifting California from 32nd place in the proportion of votes cast among the states of the union.

Republicans Confident
Republican State Chairman Charles L. Neumiller today in a statement claimed that Coolidge will win Northern California by 75,000 and the state by 150,000 or more.

Frank R. Havenner, state campaign director for La Follette, in a pre-election forecast, declared his belief that the independent candidates will carry California by a plurality of more than 75,000 votes.

Randolph V. Whiting, chairman of the Democratic campaign committee, while giving no figures, declared that "from indications on the eve of election, there is likely to be a repetition in California of the 1916 election," and that the Democratic ticket should carry the state as it did that year.

Cause of Guessing
The prospects of a huge vote, the triangular campaign and several elements not present in previous elections, admittedly had the dopesters guessing.

The Republican leaders, however, were sanguinely confident of the result and declared that it was only a question of how big the Coolidge plurality would be. On the other hand, the La Follette supporters relying on a solid labor vote and heavy support among the farmers, were likewise in a confident mood today.

EDITORIAL Evening News' Position On Civic Center Project

As pertains to the very important question to be voted upon tomorrow whether Glendale will bond the city for $650,000 to purchase the Harvard High school site for civic center purposes, the editor of The Glendale Evening News wishes to make himself clearly understood.

The Evening News, under the present management, has always stood for city parks, and in years past has been in the lead in advocating the obtaining of land for that purpose. The Evening News has also stood enthusiastically for sufficient school buildings to house the boys and girls in Glendale in the way that will enable them in the very best manner possible to obtain an education.

The Evening News also believes at the present time that the city buildings are too small and not at all in keeping with the municipal business of the city, and would advise that the matter of rebuilding or remodeling should be submitted to the people immediately.

So now, let it be clearly understood by everybody that The Evening News is entirely in favor of all reasonable advancement that will benefit the city of Glendale. As our city is benefited, so are all property owners and all persons engaged in business benefited.

The property proposed to be purchased by the bond issue to be voted upon at tomorrow's election is a bargain, and there is not anyone who should criticize the city in advocating taking over the property for park purposes. Glendale needs a centrally located rest place equipped with plenty of shade and buildings for recreational purposes and for the stranger who comes within our border to have a place to sit and rest.

With the purpose of the city becoming possessors of this property, The Evening News advocates that you vote "yes" at tomorrow's election on the bond issue, but when it comes to the question of denouncing voters in sections of the city who do not want the city hall removed from the present site, we have the same respect for their wishes as we have for the opinions of those who are very desirous of having it moved to the location of the proposed new civic center.

As to whether the city should have a municipal park and place of recreation and as to whether the city hall should be moved from its present location are questions which seem to appeal to voters from a different viewpoint. In deciding upon these questions, harsh words should not be used, incorrect or untruthful comparisons should not be made, but the whole question should be left to the vote of the people who have heard the proposition argued fully on all sides.

Whatever the outcome may be of tomorrow's election, may the time be near at hand when Glendale, by the vote of the people, will have a new city hall, a suitable park and recreation center, and will have all necessary buildings for carrying on the work of public schools in what has so often been stated, and truthfully, too, "The Fastest Growing City in America."

If there is anything that will defeat the civic center proposed bond issue, it is because there are too many propositions being considered in the discussions by those who have been honestly trying to work for the city's best interests.

30,000,000 WILL GO TO POLLS TUESDAY, BELIEF OF POLITICAL LEADERS

Every Indication Coolidge and Dawes Will Win by Large Margin; Congress Control In Doubt; State Fights Conflicting

How Wall Street Views the Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—In the betting marts of Wall street today, odds of 10 to 1 and 11 to 1 were being laid on President Coolidge to win.

Two to one and 11 to 5 were the odds quoted on the Al Smith-Theodore Roosevelt fight for the governorship, Smith being the favorite.

Even money was offered that Coolidge will have in excess of 300 votes in the electoral college.

Four to one was offered that the election will not be thrown into Congress.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Tomorrow's march to the polls will be the greatest electoral trek the world has ever witnessed. Unless the managers of all parties and all candidates are badly off in their estimates, fully 30,000,000 Americans will ballot tomorrow to determine their government, local, state and national, eclipsing by some 4,000,000 the record vote of 1920, when 26,713,832 citizens recorded their preference in the Harding-Cox contest.

The record-breaking proportions of the vote was about the only thing today that the leaders of all parties were agreed upon. On virtually every other aspect of tomorrow's great referendum, there were today the usual sharp difference of opinion, conflicting claims, and confusing cross-currents.

The attitude of the three parties, twenty-four hours in advance of the decision, might be described thus:

The Republicans are supremely, even vociferously, confident of a Coolidge-Dawes victory.

The Democrats are quietly hopeful for Davis and Bryan.

The Independents are militantly expectant of a huge popular vote, around which to build a new and permanent third party in American politics.

Certainly every surface indication points to the election of Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes—all the "experts" have agreed that it looks like a Republican victory in the electoral college, all of the straw votes, private polls and other barometric devices would be a sweeping victory. The estimate of 350 is that of William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Notwithstanding all this, Democratic leaders refused today to be downhearted—at least publicly so.

Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, said today that the hope of the Democrats is in the "great silent vote," that does not express itself in straw votes, predictions, and other pre-election exercises. May Be "Silent" Landslide

It was just such a great silent vote in 1916, Democratic leaders pointed out, that elected Woodrow Wilson over Charles E. Hughes, when every surface indication pointed to a Hughes victory, just as every surface indication now points to a Coolidge victory. In that memorable year, too, the "experts" selected Hughes, Wall street bet Hughes, and even staid Democratic journal conceded this election at 8 o'clock on election night. Then, as now, the East was predominantly for the Republican ticket.

Wilson carried but two states east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river.

AGED ARTIST PREPARING COMEBACK

Once Favorite Violinist of New York Learning to Play Jazz Tunes

By EDNA MARSHALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—In a little rear room of an upper floor of the City Home for the Aged, Joseph Tatar, once New York's favorite violinist, is practicing eight hours daily on a $10 fiddle, preparing for a comeback.

Within twelve months, he figures, although eighty-four years have passed since his birthday, he will be back leading one of the hotel dance orchestras, or charming the city's music lovers with his solos in a theatre.

Not so many years ago Joe Tatar, with a mellow, almost human Stradivarius, was a part of New York's night life, directing the orchestra at the Waldorf, then at the old Fifth Avenue hotel, when the Madison Square theater was at its height, and finally charming the guests of the Astoria house.

Violin Stolen
New York, Tatar loved him and claimed him as his own. Attempts of other cities to win his service were frustrated by enterprising New York managers, who knew they could not spare him.

Remembering that, he is practicing again, determined to come back—but not with his Stradivarius. That was stolen months ago as he slept in a lodging house. Instead he uses a cheap violin that was sent him by a man who had heard of his plight.

That kindness has inspired him to work again. He is not too old or too tired, the little white haired man proclaims. Before, he had to work so hard to save himself from starving that he had not the time to play. But now that a warm room in the City home is assured him, he will practice again.

From Budapest
Forty-one years ago Tatar came to America from Budapest. He had been directing the band of the crack Hungarian regiment. He fitted into New York, for the city then loved good music and jazz was as yet unknown. Hotel after hotel sought him and his violin. Mostly he played solos in an orchestra. Concerts he gave by the score, and applause was never failing.

Then came jazz. There was no longer a place for Tatar. He needed money, he had, seeking to establish a life for himself. And when his investments failed, he speculated with his little remaining wealth. That went, too. And Tatar, with his graceful, musical hands, had to seek plain, hard work. At nights by the glow of candle light, when his body was really too weary to respond to the call of his violin, he played and played. But he had not time to learn the new way of making music that was known as jazz.

Practices Hard
Two months ago Tatar woke in his little room on the lower east side to find his violin had been valued at $2000, gone. He had loved it, fondled it, talked to it, and now it was gone. So, too, was his remaining $18.50 in cash.

Broken by his loss, he appeared before Magistrate Corrigan of Essex Market court, and asked to be sent to the workhouse.

"It will be warm there," he said, "and I will be sure of work and someone to talk to now that my fiddle is gone."

But he was sent to this other warm home, where he could rest instead of working, and a man in Hartford heard his story and sent him a little, cheap violin. Tatar is learning to play jazz now, for with no work that must be done there is plenty of time to learn.

"In a year," he says, "I shall know how. I shall get somehow a good violin—another like my own. I shall go to the biggest hotel in New York and lead its orchestra. Wait and see."

New York will go on—and see.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Nov. 3.—Halloween was no joke to Mr. and Mrs. Sumner H. Adams, Summit avenue, Tujunga. While they were at the Tujunga Valley theater, between 7 and 9 p. m., housebreakers ransacked their home and stole clothes and valuable amounting to several hundred dollars. Several of Mrs. Adams' gowns and private papers were taken. A highly prized violin, belonging to Mr. Adams, was included in the haul. Everything in the house was ransacked by the thieves in their search, some of the furnishings being damaged by rough handling.

Over 200 representatives of "spookdom" attended the fancy dress ball Halloween night given by the Tujunga Woman's club at the Garden of the Moon. All branches of the spook family were represented, from black felines to broom-riding witches and goblin goblins. Approximately $100 was added to the treasury of the club as a result of the large patronage. The management of the Garden of the Moon donated the use of the dance pavilion. The Halloween dance was considered one of the most successful of the popular affairs given this year by the Woman's club.

Automobile name plates bearing the word "Tujunga" have been received by the Chamber of Commerce and will be distributed to owners.

Chemists are trying to find an alloy to prevent tarnishing of silver.

PRODIGAL SONS AND DAUGHTERS

Editor's Note — This is the last of a series of articles written for The Glendale Evening News by Carlos S. Hardy, judge of the superior court of Los Angeles county. The articles showed that "crime never pays." Judge Hardy's position and his study of the cases before him qualifies him to present the articles in an interesting manner.

TAKING CHANCE FIRST STEP IN CRIME

By CARLOS S. HARDY
Judge of the Superior Court, Los Angeles County

One step in crime leads to another. After the first step is made, it is not difficult to take the second and third steps. From which it follows that we must fight with all our power against taking the first mis-step.

Recently, a man 60 years of age came into my court charged with more than thirty forgeries. He was a handsome, fine appearing man of education and ability. He had a devoted wife and lovely children, and he indignantly protested his innocence. When his record was made up, it was found that his father had been a judge honored and loved by his people, and he had educated and trained his son for the law. The son had been admitted to the bar, and entered upon what was predicted as a brilliant career. But, in an evil day, he had forged a deed to some property in which he was interested. He imagined that his forgery would not be discovered, or, if found out, that he could not be connected with it. And, too, he relied on his father's standing and his own position to keep suspicion away. So he took the chance.

Law of Nature
But he counted against the good law of compensation, which awards us with good harvests when we sow good seed and equality true and just, with evil harvests when we sow evil seeds. There is an immutable law which declares "we reap as we sow." Mr. Carroll, as we will call the defendant, thought that was not his name, did not recognize this law of nature. But the law works just the same, whether we recognize it or not. Ignorance is no excuse to evade or delay the law. It is certain. The old and hardened criminal knows the law, and he calls it fate. But the true name of the law is "compensation," for it decrees that for good comes good, and for evil comes evil. There is no escape, however we may believe in or disregard this law.

While in the rising tide of young manhood and success at the bar, Mr. Carroll was accused of the forgery and his guilt established. He pleaded for mercy, asking probation, and expressing a willingness to make amends, but because Carroll was a lawyer sworn to obey and respect the law, the judge properly sentenced him to State's prison for a long term.

Carroll served his term, and when he came back into society, he found that he could not again practice law because he had forfeited his right to do so by his crime. He tried other lines of business, but had only indifferent success. He went into the real estate business, finally, and it was the worst thing that he could have done, for there were temptations every day that surrounded him. He closed his eyes and plunged ahead, and made much money for himself and his clients, but he worked many shady transactions. The real estate dealer cannot afford to be dishonest, for if he is, he is sure to be found out before he goes far. In some businesses, men can cover up their wrongs for a time, but it is not so in the real estate business. Crime will out soon in the real estate business, and in all other businesses eventually. Finally, Carroll's business went on rocks, and in the effort to delay and cover up, he committed one crime after another, until he was guilty of nearly half a hundred of serious offenses. And when he came into my court he had not a dollar, his wife and children being thrown upon charity. He could not have had less money or property had he been scrupulously honest throughout.

Had he been honest, he could have saved his own self respect and saved his family the stigma of another disgrace, and there would have been the chance of recovery. But now, all was lost.

Commits Suicide
If a young man commits crime, the future will be hard for him, but when a man above 50 years of age commits crime, he commits suicide. As a business future is concerned, crime is a proven guilty of many crimes. He had defrauded people out of a great deal of money, and he had lost the money. There would be no chance to make restitution to them. Some were aged spinners and widows who had through Carroll lost all of their savings. One of these, who was a housemaid, had in her 65 years saved up about $2000, had lost every cent through Carroll, and now she has to go into a poor house to live the rest of her life, an object of public charity.

Of course, Carroll will spend the balance of his life in prison as some atonement to society for his crimes against society's laws, but he can never make atonement in this life for the sorrow and suffering that he has brought his wife and children. And as for those who have lost their property through Carroll, their name is legion, and there can be no recompense for them. Their monetary losses, though large, do not compare with the suffering and sorrow that they have experienced already, and will experience in the future, and all through one man who, when he had taken the first step in crime, could not keep from repeating again and again.

As one would shun the deadliest poison, let everyone refuse to take the first step in crime. Take no chances with right and justice.

Canada's 1923 fire losses showed a decrease under those of 1922.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Nov. 3.—The local Parent-Teacher association starts its annual membership drive on Wednesday of this week. "We must have not less than 600 members this year," is the slogan adopted by Mrs. J. C. Reiter, president of the association.

At the present time the association has 425 members. The enrollment at the school is almost 1000. With this number, the P-T-A officers feel that at least 600 members should be enrolled. Mrs. G. E. Arbogast is in charge of the drive, assisted by Mrs. Van Lee Hood, Mrs. Collier and Mrs. C. M. Hensley. The drive will continue one week.

Mrs. J. C. Reiter, secretary of the Eagle Rock C. of C., has arranged with the Los Angeles street department to have the streets sprinkled at stated intervals, to protect merchants' stock from the clouds of dust that are said to have been doing damage of late.

H. C. Warren, appointed major in the Community Chest movement for the Eagle Rock district, is calling a meeting of all residents at the Eagle Rock school on Thursday night, November 6. A prominent speaker from Los Angeles will be secured to make the address of the evening, putting definitely before the people the Community Chest plan for financing charitable organizations.

Captains have been appointed as follows: O. J. Root, Mrs. Alice Winters, H. L. De Vol, K. W. Hunt, Emil Swanson. Walter Mann will have full charge of the interests at Occidental college in the drive. Each captain in turn is to appoint ten lieutenants.

The quota to be raised by this district is $3000. Out of the general fund that is raised through the boulevard and has a depth of 125 feet. The new owners have as yet announced no plans for the further improvement of the property.

Frank E. Anderson, real estate man, reports the sale of the Lotretta Smith property at 602 Tujunga avenue to Mrs. H. Anderson, of Los Angeles.

Slender, petite Margie Dubril, 20, the first woman in Los Angeles county to face a jailbreak charge since the re-capture of Clara Phillips, pleaded "not guilty" last Friday before Superior Judge Edwin F. Hahn.

The girl's trial on the assertion of Burbank authorities that she broke out of their jail, was set for November 10.

Miss Dubril got into conflict with the law when, say Burbank police officers, she smashed a door in the Burbank jail and escaped. She will base her defense on her lack of the strength necessary for such an act, she states.

Mrs. L. B. Markwell and children, who have been visiting with a daughter of the former, Mrs. Charles Askins of Orange Grove avenue, have left for their home in Flemingsburg, Kentucky. They were here three months and were pleased with California, Mrs. Askins said today.

Mrs. Jasper Garst of 265 Tujunga avenue is entertaining as a house guest her nephew, Noble Kreider, of Goshen, Indiana. He has just completed a tour around the world.

Daylight Thieves Steal Plants on Front Porch

H. N. Burton of 1320 South Adams street had two large potted plants on his front porch. Now he hasn't. Yesterday morning a car drove up at the curb outside his house, two men in white sweaters got out walked to the porch, lifted the plants, rushed to the car and made off with them. By the time Mr. Burton recovered from the surprise of this daylight robbery, the car had disappeared up Adams street. He notified the police, but no trace had been found late today of the thieves.

Luxurious steel motor busses are being used in the east to compete with electric railways.

KU KLUX DIFFER ON ORGANIZATION

Faction Fight in California Climaxed; Nevada Klan Steps Into Ring

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3.—Climaxing the fight that has been raging between the two factions of the Ku Klux Klan in California, incorporation papers of the invisible empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the state of Nevada, were received here by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan for record.

Jordan recently declined to issue incorporation papers to either faction of the warring California Klan, and the case is now pending in the courts.

Dissenting Faction
The dissenting faction of the California Klan, headed by Charles H. Hays, James F. DeBord, and F. M. Lipey of Venice, secured incorporation papers for their faction of the order at Carson City, Nev. DeBord was named as the grand kludge.

Filing of the Nevada Klan incorporation papers with the California secretary of state today for record prevents the opposing faction—which is the national organization with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., from assuming a similar name in California.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, Nov. 3.—G. W. Butts, 75, one of the best known and most active civic workers in the community, died suddenly last Tuesday at his home in Sunland. Mr. Butts had been in his usual vigorous health and attending his work during the day, but in the evening he suddenly collapsed without warning. Heart failure was the verdict of a coroner's jury.

Mr. Butts had made his home in Sunland for four years and leaves a daughter and son there, Mrs. Bert Pinson and Oscar Butts. A son in Oklahoma and daughter in Colorado also survive. Rev. W. E. Smith preached the funeral service. Interment was in the Burbank cemetery.

A program was recently given by the Sagebrushers' Art club of Tujunga at a meeting of the Monte Vista Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Laura Lee Sweet arranged the affair, at which entertainers' numbers were given by Mrs. Franquet of La Crescenta.

Mrs. Swan, Montrose; Mrs. Buttery, Tujunga; Mrs. Kimpel, Tujunga; Mrs. Wendee, Tujunga; Mrs. Sweet, Tujunga. Pictures were exhibited from the brushes of Mr. Franquet, Perry McNeely, Clara Gard, Mrs. Cobb, Emma Kraft, Mabel Free Dean and Stanley Schultz.

Political subjects held the attention of the members of the Tujunga Center Improvement league at the last meeting. Propositions coming from the voters Tuesday were discussed. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Foster were given a farewell reception by the league. Mr. and Mrs. Foster are leaving soon for their ranch near Modesto, Cal., which they have recently acquired in a trade for Sunland property.

Mr. Foster has been serving the league as a member of the fire protection committee. Mrs. Foster has been chairman of the entertainment committee, Halloween decorations and refreshments added to the sociability of the event while friends expressed regret in losing the Foster family from the community.

Generous patronage was accorded the Halloween party and entertainment given by the Monte Vista Parent-Teacher association. A program was given by the school pupils and Halloween games and refreshments were enjoyed.

Earl Newire spent several days in San Francisco on business. A large number of Sunland homes are being piped for gas that is soon to be supplied through the new mains just laid into the valley by way of Roscoe. Service is scheduled to begin as soon as the main pipe system has been completed along the state highway and principal streets.

LANKERSHIM

LANKERSHIM, Nov. 3.—Doc Ladd reports that the campaign to raise $75,000 for a community hospital for this section is coming along in good shape. Van Nuy's Post, No. 193, the American Legion, is back of the project.

The honor of being the first Lankershim man to make a donation goes to H. J. Nishart, who sent in his contribution last week.

The plan calls for the erection of a twenty-nine bed hospital fully equipped in every modern way. The location, while not yet decided upon, will be centrally located, and easily accessible from all points in San Fernando valley.

On Sunday the restored church of Junipero Serra was formally dedicated at the Mission of San Juan Capistrano. In the morning mass was celebrated in the mission pageant auditorium by Bishop Cantwell. In the afternoon the pageant, which has just finished its fourth successful week, was presented in honor of the occasion.

The local Kiwanis club celebrated its second anniversary on Saturday, when a big birthday party was given, steaks of decided tenderness being donated by Butchers Baker and Boutlier. Herbert J. Penfield, president, presided.

D. L. O'Neal, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. O'Neal, is on a visit here. He is a U. S. marine and had the misfortune to have his leg broken while at Panama. He has been transferred to the U. S. S. California now in San Pedro harbor and will go to his new boat as soon as his leg is healed.

RAINMAKERS MAY AID AFRICA

Letter From Tunis Inquires
About Charles Hatfield
And His Work

The name of Charles Hatfield, rainmaker, of Glendale, has long been an honored household word throughout California. Likewise, Mr. Hatfield, who claims the distinction of being able to produce the precious moisture at will, is favorably known and commented upon in Ohio, where he once assisted nature; in South America, where they would like to have him back; in Canada, where he has also operated, and even in far-away Italy, where it is said his activities resulted in the flooding of all the main roads to Rome. But within the past twenty-four hours new and added laurels have been heaped upon the head of the rainmaker, by reason of a letter from the Franco-Tunis Oil Co. to the Hanford, Kings county, Chamber of Commerce.

In Paris Newspaper
The letter was mailed from Stax, Tunis, French West Africa, and contains pointed queries as to the authenticity of reports received in that distant land concerning the operations of Mr. Hatfield in Kings county during March and April of this year. A report which had found prominent space in a copy of La Petit Journal, Paris newspaper, mailed to an official of the Tunis Co. from the French capital, accompanied the letter. The oil company officials sought information as to the credibility of the report.

B. B. Rice, secretary of the Hanford Chamber of Commerce, stated he would be able to verify the facts set forth in the French

Preliminary Meeting For New Lodge Held

The meeting of sojourning Masons called to meet at the Masonic temple Sunday afternoon was largely attended. A. M. Dewey was elected chairman of the meeting, and a general exchange of opinion was had as to the advisability of forming a lodge in Glendale of those Masons living here who still hold their memberships in lodges "back home." A motion was unanimously adopted favoring such a move, and signatures to such a petition were had by men representing eleven states and the province of Alberta, Canada.

The chairman was directed to continue his negotiations with the grand master and grand secretary of California, and the meeting was adjourned to meet again at the same place next Sunday, November 9 at 3 o'clock. Among those who signed the petition were several past masters and wardens of their home lodges. The states represented were Iowa, Washington, Louisiana, Minnesota, South Dakota, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Michigan, Indiana, New York, Ohio, and Alberta, Canada.

Present Production Of Company Pleases

"Turn to the Right," the production which the Dobinson Players are putting on with such success this week, is one of the most genuinely humorous comedies ever written. As Mrs. Bascom, the mother, who believes in the efficacy of prayer, George Woodthorpe's portrayal has been proclaimed a benediction by the critic of a Los Angeles newspaper. William H. Stephens, as the wronged boy, who was put a year in prison for a crime never committed, is equally well done. Mary Isabelle Alpaugh as Elsie, Joe's sweetheart, is most effective in her girlish interpretation of this role. Joseph McManus as Muggs, is a perfect characterization. William Chapman as Deacon Tillinger, Richard Ehlers as Sam Martin, Carroll Nye as Gilly, Arthur Lovejoy as Mr. Morgan, Thyra Ruhland as Jessie Strong, Marie Grey as Betty Bascom, Harry

W. A. Horn In Appeal For Civic Center Vote

Editor The Evening News:—The big Halloween party given Friday night by the Kiwanis club for the boys and girls of the city and the drills conducted during the big convalescent day, both organizations using the Harvard High school grounds for their gatherings, again proved the great need for just such a place near the center of our city for occasions of this kind.

No more ideal location could be found, just far enough away from the congested district yet close to all bus and car lines. There will be plenty of parking space too, with three streets now open and plans proposed for the continuation of Maryland street through the present alley. Another feature of this location is that it is so completely equipped for just the needs and purposes of a civic center.

I would, therefore, appeal to the citizens who saw the splendid drills of the Knights Templar and also to those who saw the wonderful advantages of such a place Friday night in handling that large crowd of children and their friends.

Let us all get out and vote "Yes" ourselves and get our friends and neighbors to do likewise. The future population of our city will, through all time, thank us for securing this property now, to be used for just such purposes as are proposed by the Civic Center Campaign committee. Vote yes on both propositions.

W. A. HORN.

Guests Entertained At Ball Home Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ball of 1208 East Green street, Glendale Heights, had as Sunday dinner guests Mrs. O. L. McCaskill and children, Margaret Jane and Daniel, of Ithaca, N. Y.; Mrs. Margaret Bell of Streator, Ill.; and Mrs. Katherine Lynn and Frank Drew of Los Angeles.

Glazier as the pawnbroker, and George C. Pearce as Callahan, are all splendid in their respective roles.

HITS SECTIONAL IDEA ON PROJECT

Peter Hanson Urges Ballots
For Civic Center for Greater Glendale

Editor The Evening News:—As I have read and listened to the statements against the civic center it almost seems as if we have forgotten the objective in the heat of argument. Some cry, "Taxes are too high!" This is not a tax problem, but if Glendale is to hold its rightful place as a forward-going city, she must fall in line with a civic center. Some favor a civic center some place, but against the civic center, and only reason that it might affect business development on Colorado street. I own a lot on East Colorado, but I will not allow selfish interest to interfere with a Greater Glendale, for I know I will be the gainer in the end. These same opponents expressed willingness that the civic center should go on Central or some out of the way place, forgetting that the other locality would likewise be injured if their contentions were true.

Some object because "the property is not worth it," while others are equally afraid the board of education will sell too cheaply. Some demand that they be shown the why of a civic center, forgetting that the tallow candle has been discarded and we are now using electric light. Some worry lest the school board be incapable of meeting the congestion problems afterwards, while some are opposed because a fully defined plan is not outlined in advance. It takes no intelligence to ask irrelevant questions.

I do not question the sincerity of any, but much of this is a determined effort to becloud the issue. How long shall the welfare of my city be bartered for selfish interests? We need a centralized municipal plant. We need a breathing spot close in. We need a comfort station. We need a common rallying center. It's got to be on some street and it's got to be in Glendale. We cannot shove it over in Eagle Rock. They would probably give us a free site if we could. Some of us will not have so much business if our answer is "no" to this forward step.

Let us forget our petty differences and get together for a common good. Let us not cover up the main issue with unimportant side lines. I cannot refrain from appealing to you, Mr. Ingledue, as the leader of the opposition. When you were hard pressed in financing your hotel a few months ago you appeared personally before a regular meeting of the Realty board and pleaded for help lest the project fail. Did these realtors rebuff you with a cry of "sectionalism"? No. To them it mattered not what part of Glendale so long as it was a Greater Glendale. I held those realtors one hour over time, pleaded and exhorted for your hotel, backed it with my own money, and before we adjourned that loyal bunch had subscribed the last $12,000 and your hotel was assured. Surely you have not so soon forgotten! All the year I have worked for a Greater Glendale. I know no sectionalism. Most of this same bunch who put your hotel across are now again pulling for their city's welfare—a civic center. I appeal to your sense of fair play.

PETER HANSON.

Local Postal Workers Lose Close Game to L.A.

In a snappy pitchers' duel at the White Sox ball park Sunday morning, Jewel City branch 1883, ball team, composed of Glendale postoffice employees, were defeated by the Angel City branch team, 3 to 2. "Goldie" Richards pitched high grade ball for Glendale while Taylor of Los Angeles did equally well at baffling the opposing batsmen. A large crowd witnessed the game.

Stanford Alumni Work On Children's Gifts

A group of former students at Leland Stanford university met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Shives Mitchell, 551 East Cypress street, to work on articles for a Christmas box to be sent to the Stanford Home for Convalescent children, conducted in the old Stanford home on the Stanford estate at Palo Alto. Mrs. Mitchell's guests were a group of college friends, who have been meeting in Glendale and nearby cities to work for the home. On Saturday Miss Lorraine Mitchell was a special guest.

"My ambition was to be a doctor—a tonsil specialist," sighed the dentist.

"What stood in your way?" asked the victim in the chair.

"My arms weren't long enough," groaned the dentist. "Back teeth are as far as I can reach."

Imperial Valley Lures Two Pasadena Youths

Overcome by the romantic lure of the Imperial valley, Donald and Creighton Narnell of Pasadena, aged 8 and 10, were on their way to El Centro, about at 11:30 Saturday night, when H. E. Moessner of Hollywood chanced along in his car. Thinking it strange that two boys should be walking along Colorado boulevard alone, so late at night, he stopped and questioned them. The boys' answers betrayed their secret ambition and Mr. Moessner took them to police headquarters, to await their parents. Early yesterday morning the father of the runaway boys drove over from Pasadena and took them home.

Coolidge Vote to Be 75 Per Cent In Precinct

Seventy-five per cent of the voters in precinct No. 18 will vote for Coolidge and Dawes tomorrow, according to A. D. Looney, of 206 North Verdugo road, who bases his statement on a personal canvass made of the precinct. Of the number who announced they were going to vote for La Follette, 80 per cent were found to be persons who spoke with a foreign accent. Majority of Democrats in the precinct will vote for the Republican ticket, Mr. Looney said, to offset the vote for La Follette.

poration now being prepared by Hanna and Fredericks, Los Angeles attorneys. The co-operative idea is carried out, Polly Sister employees receiving 90 per cent of the profits.

Hunting Party Back From Week-End Trip

H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent, returned to Glendale last night with the party of five men from his office, after a week-end spent on the ranch of Roy Johnson near El Cajon. They report the quail plentiful but shy, one day's hunting having sent them scurrying to the hills for cover.

In the party making the trip with Mr. Vandewater were J. M. Fife, Andrew Stephenson, Jack Crandall, J. M. Falline and W. L. Murphy. Mr. Johnson, who was host to the party, is known to many Glendale as former municipal plumbing inspector of this city. The party greatly enjoyed his generous hospitality and brings back pleasant memories of an exciting hunt and long hours Saturday night before his big log fire.

Barton Manber Speaks At Art Association

Barton Manber, Glendale artist, spoke yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Glendale Art association at the public library. Mrs. Uremy Sears of Pasadena, who was to have been present, was unable to do so because of an accident last week, in which she received a broken arm. Those attending the meeting were also interested to hear Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson speak on the civic center. Mrs. Roy Ballagh, president, was presiding officer.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

I ALWAYS DOUBT—
The necessity of any evil.
The election predictions that come from campaign headquarters.
The sincerity of the salesman who does not use his own goods.
The wisdom of calling public officials hard names.
The religion of a man who is afraid of a face.
The press agent's estimate of the cost of a moving picture.

LONGEVITY AND THE FUTURE

Every man and woman who attain a ripe old age are interviewed by the enterprising reporter who, in turn, tells the anxious public how they, too, may accumulate many years. Either we must taboo tobacco and intoxicating liquors or we must be habitual users of the weed and alcoholic drinks. One attributes his longevity and good health to certain practices and habits of living, and another nonagenarian of centenarian is certain that he never would have attained such an age if he had not followed the opposite course.

No doubt these old people have acquired a certain amount of wisdom with their years, but they are mistaken when they look to the past for the secret of their old age and good health. An interest in life and in the future is the greatest tonic and elixir of life and the only fountain of perpetual youth.

We all know people who are happy and healthful in extreme old age, people who lived the hard life of the pioneer in their younger days. But they are not looking back, except to compare those days with the present. They are mightily interested in the present and what the future will bring forth. They discuss with avidity the radio, the conquest of the air and present day customs and amusements. They spend their time speculating about the future rather than mooning in the past. Of course it is interesting to hear them tell of their past lives, of pioneer days and historical events with which they were identified. Records of the past are instructive and valuable. What we mean to say is, that these old people do not live in the past. They see it in its proper relation to the present and the future, just as great statesmen study history to help them to interpret present-day problems.

A happy and healthful old age and an interest in life are inseparable.

GRADE CROSSING EVIL

The grade crossing exacted a toll of 2268 lives in this country last year, with 6314 injured. The people of Los Angeles county will have an opportunity to strike at this monster, the grade crossing menace, at the election Tuesday. The proposed $5,000,000 county bond issue is to finance the public's share of the cost of railroad and highway grade separations and does not relieve the railroads from paying such a proportion of the cost as may be determined by the railroad commission as chargeable to them. In order that the county may proceed with a definite scheme of grade separations, it is necessary to provide for a special fund out of which the amount assessed against the county may be paid.

The Automobile Club of Southern California gives two reasons why this method is necessary in solving the grade crossing problem.

First: To end the ever-growing casualty list caused by collisions between trains and motor vehicles as well as pedestrians at grade crossings.

Second: That we may avoid congestion in order that the highways may accommodate the heavy traffic required of them. To the extent that we make travel rapid and free from congestion we create land values in the outlying districts and build residence cities and suburbs around our large cities. To the same extent we prevent the creation of tenement districts and the congested mode of living in our cities.

THE POOR FARMER

The farmer is getting a lot of sympathy these days, and he deserves it. He is not receiving prices for his produce that will enable him to pay the interest on his mortgage in some cases. And, yet, the farmer lives infinitely better and life is so much easier for him than it was a few years ago before the cry of "poor farmer" was heard.

Is there a farmer who does not own a car, thus bringing him closer to his markets and his place of trading? Does he not live better in every way, and does not his family have more privileges and pleasures and fewer hardships than was the case only a few years back? Ten or fifteen years ago the farmer and his family and hired help drudged from dawn until dark. They refused to do it now, and rightly so. They demand conveniences that make the work easier, and they must have plenty of time for recreation. The car brings the movies and other amusements and social affairs closer to the farm, the wife belongs to a club, and the social life of the family is no different from that of the city dweller.

The farmer deserves all the ease he can obtain, and we want to see him do well, for the prosperity of the country rests largely with him. But, when we hear of the "poor farmer" it is very difficult not to picture in the mind's eye, farm life as it was a few years ago, and as it is now.

THE VALUE OF SCHOOLING

A professor in an eastern college has attempted to express in dollars the value of an education. Basing his calculations upon the wage rates of trained and untrained workers he comes to the conclusion that a high school education is worth $33,000 and a diploma from a higher institution of learning has a value of $72,000. This should make the young person who wants to "quit school" stop and think.

Of course these figures are arbitrary, for so much depends upon the student. Many a person without a college education has so used his time and his faculties as to prepare himself for very important work in the world. And many a college graduate has found himself unprepared to hold down the most ordinary of clerical jobs.

An education is not absolutely necessary, many have done well with little or no schooling, but it is true that the wider a general knowledge we have the easier and the happier we find life to be.

No doubt an education is worth as much as this professor claims, if the student, in acquiring knowledge, learns also how to use it.

Well known maker boasts that his car has four wheels and four brakes. According to vital statistics, most cars have four wheels and no brakes.

Too often, the outcome of uplifting the down trodden depends upon the income.

The only proper place for long winded people is the race track.

Many have the gripe, few the password.

Vitamines

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I have received many letters from bakers and others in regard to an editorial which I published some time ago in regard to white bread.

In this editorial I stated that the use of white bread was injurious because it was lacking in vitamins. A number of those whose craft was in danger, especially bakers, have written to me, doubtless under the stimulation of the American Bakers' association, who wrote to them denouncing me and stating that my attack on white bread was vicious and malicious.

I am quite sure that the attack was not malicious; whether it is vicious or not is a question to be determined by the scientists and not by the hurrying of epithets.

At least I am in line with the statement of Major General Sir David Bruce, who is president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. His statement seems to indicate that, "The whiter the bread, the sooner you're dead." Sir David Bruce asserts that, "Doubtless in the future the new knowledge in regard to the accessory food factors in diet will be used to a greater extent than it has been up to the present, in which case it is not too much to expect that the children of some future generation will have better grown bodies and stronger, healthier teeth than their predecessors of the pre-vitamin age."

In his address before a meeting of the association in Canada he recalled a remarkable incident in Mesopotamia. There was a shortage of fresh food among the troops, with the result that scurvy broke out among the Indian troops and beri-beri among the British. The Indians were living on dried pulses, such as peas, beans and lentils, the British on dried beef and biscuit. The former diet was deficient in the anti-scurbutic vitamin, on account of the complete drying of the seeds, and the latter in the anti-beri-beri factor, on account of the use of white flour from which the germ had been removed.

It had been discovered that if dried seeds were germinated, a quantity of the anti-scurbutic vitamin was produced by the act of sprouting. The dried peas and beans were soaked in water and then spread out in shallow layers, to cause them to sprout, which they did readily in the warm climate. The germinated seeds were then issued to the Indian troops and cooked in the usual way. As a result of this simple procedure the scurvy completely disappeared.

In a recent experiment with about two thousand children in New York City there was noted a difference in growth and general development between those fed upon the ordinary white bread and a loaf enriched with the extract from the wheat germ—yeast and milk. In less than a year the under-nourished were lifted from a sub-normal health and weight and an increase in height was particularly marked in Italian and Jewish children.

Because devitaminized foods are the ones most heavily advertised, this whole question of proper nutrition is likely to become the center of wide controversy.

Mr. George S. Ward, in producing his vitamin bread loaf, worked in co-operation with the scientific leaders of the country. Mr. Ward later confirmed the statements made in my article.

Sir David Bruce asserts that children's diseases are due to sunless houses and diet deficient in vitamins.

I see no occasion to retract the statement that whole wheat flour is better than flour that has been deprived of its vitamins.

LEAGUE LOSES SUPPORT

(San Bernardino Sun)

No cause ever lost supporters so rapidly as the league of nations has lost friends in the United States since its manager began talking of compelling the United States to do its bidding. Having failed to inveigle the United States into the league, the active proponents of that organization have resorted to threats. They announce that under the league covenant the league may take jurisdiction of a dispute between one of its members and a nation not a member, and if the nation not a member refuses to abide by the decision it shall be construed to be an aggressor in any conflict that ensues. Being set down as the aggressor, however lacking in aggression that nation might be, it could be the object of the solidified antagonism of all the members of the league. The only way for the United States to properly protect its interests, we are given to understand, is to join the league and thus have a voice in its decisions and avoid being adjudged an aggressor. That is the substance of the threat.

Then there is another development that has taken a lot of enthusiasm out of the American advocates of the league. This is the action of Japan in demanding that such controversies as immigration shall be deemed proper subjects for settlement by the league. Japan does not merely insist that a subject should be included by amendment of the present covenant, but that it is already a subject within the jurisdiction of the league and should be so declared. Japan refuses to consent that the question of jurisdiction should be submitted to the world court.

Each new turn in league affairs proves more and more conclusively the wisdom of those senators who steadfastly refused their assent to the treaty of peace with the league covenant included. And there are millions of Democrats who are coming to see the great error in trying to bind the United States to a pact filled with so many doubtful provisions the future interpretations of which were certain to involve this country in bitter controversies, any one of a number of which might easily lead to war.

CALIFORNIA IS FOR COOLIDGE — Because — COOLIDGE IS FOR CALIFORNIA

The voters of the Golden State have reason to be grateful to President Coolidge for what he has done for our great state in the year that he has been president, but they have greater reason for confidence in what he will do for this state in the next four years. He has put two California men in his cabinet, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy. He has honored this state in a most unusual way by choosing two men for his cabinet from one state. Through them he is in close touch with the needs of this commonwealth. California needs the protective tariff that President Coolidge stands for. He can be counted on to protect every California industry.

California Is For Coolidge—Because Coolidge Is For the Whole Country

America at this time needs a great American, a man of common sense, to administer its affairs in behalf of all the people. With his record of performance in public life, no claims by any other candidate can compare.

Calvin Coolidge will champion the Constitution and see that it continues to be the fundamental law of the land. He will see that it is for the people.

'INGLEDUE BLOCK' STAND EXPLAINED

'Charlie's Gang' Gives Its Reasons for Opposing Civic Center Idea

Editor The Evening News—Since there has been so much said about Ingledue and his gang and his block in the propaganda published by the men who are responsible for the people of Glendale being called upon to vote their sentiments as to whether or not we shall make a leap in the dark to secure a so-called civic center, I would like to take this opportunity of setting myself right before the people of Glendale.

First—As regards the wonderful fine lot of men and women referred to as "Charlie Ingledue's Gang," I refer you to the list of names attached to literature published by the Taxpayers' Protective league, which is only a part of this so-called "gang" and for me to be called the leader of such representative lot of Glendale citizens is more glory than I am either worthy or capable of. And when the votes of the different precincts are counted certainly the editor of The Glendale Press will be ashamed of some editorials in which he has seen fit to brand this fine lot of people as liars and deceivers.

Second—As to myself I am willing to leave my record to the people of Glendale, even the men who in this campaign have been unkind and ungentlemanly enough to mention me in public speech and published editorials, have nothing in the past to criticize, I have always been as I am now, interested in everything for the advancement of Glendale. And in this campaign I am only fighting to keep a few misguided and unthinking men from putting over something on the taxpayers of Glendale that we will always be ashamed of.

Third—The "Ingledue Block"—I am accused of being selfish for opposing this unbusinesslike proposition because I happen to own a block across from the present city hall and am receiving rents for space in which the engineers and building departments are located. Sometimes when I read the description of this block by the poison pen of some of the people writing for The Glendale Press I feel like a felon for holding title to such a low-down piece of property.

"Here is the truth," Mr. Voter. This block is a semi-frame building of no worse construction than the school buildings for which the Civic Center campaign committee propose to buy and spend $150,000 remodeling to be used as a city hall except, a part of the outside walls and since statistics will show that 95 per cent of all fires originate from internal causes, these school buildings are but very little safer than this "Ingledue Block" so far as protecting our valuable papers from fire is concerned.

As to the rent I am receiving from the city, any employee of the city who knows, will tell you that I am receiving just the same for this space that former tenants were paying and certainly the treatment the building is receiving, that is no more than fair. They call me selfish. If I were I would be with the Civic Center campaign committee, because all the leases in this block expire January 1, 1926, at which time I hope to be able to build a modern four-story class A building at this location and it would be very much to my advantage that since the city has demolished the walls and floors of the building that they keep it until that time.

"On Other Hand" If the campaign committee succeed in fooling the people to vote these bonds, before the school board can vote another larger bond issue to supply school rooms to care for the pupils now being cared for at the present high school and remodel the buildings so that they can be used by the city at all, two years will have passed and the city will have been paying me rent up to the time when I will want to tear down the old block, to give place to the new structure.

On the other hand, if the people decide to use good judgment and common horse sense and build a fine class A building on property they already own, this can be done in the next six or eight months and the city will be out of my block into their own quarters, and if I receive any rent for my rooms it will be after I have spent several hundred dollars in repairs to make it rentable after the usage it has had.

Now about the amount of space occupied by the city in this building. I just finished checking the measurements and instead of 1132 feet as mentioned by Mr. Watson in his article, there are 3428 feet. That is pretty close the truth for Mr. Watson, really closer than most of his articles have been.

Regarding Civic Center Proposition. A little mistake like this does not matter much—in fact, it would hardly be worth mentioning were it not for the fact that he proceeds from this basis to compute the great saving the city would make if it paid rent on this basis. The amount he mentions is a total of $10,636.22. This amount figured on the true basis would be about one-third of this amount or approximately $3,545.64. Not such a steal, is it? But do not understand by this that I am in favor of continuing in this make-shift manner. Certainly enough has been said to demonstrate that Glendale needs better accommodations for her administration department and let us all forget our petty jealousies and sectional interest and do the right thing to continue our progress as the "Fastest Growing City in America." ## IDOL WORSHIP BY INDIANS RELATED

Superintendent of Mission
Work for Adventists
Speaks at Church

An address setting forth the difficulties attending Christian evangelistic work in India, was given Saturday afternoon at the Seventh Day Adventist church on North Isabel street, by Rev. William Cormack, Adventist superintendent of mission work in that country.

"The evangelization of such a country as India," he said, "seems at times an altogether hopeless undertaking; but the Christian missionary takes courage from the knowledge that there is nothing impossible with God, and from what is to be seen at this day of the marvelous working of divine providence in the strongholds of heathenism, where doors are now opening which have been closed for centuries."

Exhibiting a small image of an Indian god which he had purchased of a street vendor as he was leaving India, Rev. Cormack told his audience something about the multiplicity of idols worshipped by the people of India.

Indian Legend
"The name of this god," he stated, "is Gopish, and he is the son of the god Siva, whom the Indians believe to possess very great power. Gopish is known in India as the god of obstacles. The reason why he has an elephant's head on a man's body, is this, according to the Indian legend: Gopish had a woman's head at the first, but there was another god who by looking at him caused his head to come off. Siva prayed for a new head for his son, and his prayer was granted, but with the condition that it must be that of the first creature he met facing toward the north; and that was an elephant."

"A festival in honor of Gopish was in progress as I was leaving India, and his images were being sold by the thousand. I bought this one for twelve cents. This god is made of mud. There are said to be thirty million different gods in India, and their images are to be seen everywhere."

"At Benares I saw a great multitude of people who had come to worship and bathe in the river Ganges. They were arriving every hour by train, and many had come long distances at heavy expense. I talked with a father and mother who had their little boy with them who had beautiful curly hair, and learned that they were going to bathe him in the Ganges and then cut off his curls and put them with a little money on a tiny float and let them float down the river."

Learns Language
"In North Burma our Brother Skinner found a people who had never seen a white man's face, and they ran from him. They were very superstitious. Though he had no place to live there until he could build one for himself, Brother Skinner was determined to go among them; so he built a small shack and lived in it while he made friends with the natives and studied their language. Today he is the recognized authority on the language of that people, and is compiling a dictionary for the government and making a translation of the Bible for the Bible society."

Rev. Cormack said that notwithstanding the tremendous obstacles in the way of Christian missions in that country, he believes the evangelization of India and other heathen lands will be speedily accomplished; because, he said, God will work in ways that have never been seen before to bring this about.

Harry James Lectures At San Diego Academy

Glendale received flattering mention last week when Harry James, Glendale monologist and lecturer for the Brunswick Co., spoke to the 200 cadets at the Pacific Beach Army and Navy academy, near San Diego, for Colonel Thomas A. Davis, commander, announced before the whole assembly that the academy is proud of the Glendale boys attending, and added that their names can usually be found on the honor roll each week.

Mr. James was happy to greet at the academy Davis Chandler, Cecil Periera, Thomas B. Buell and Burton Kuntzner. While in the south Mr. James addressed students at twelve schools, the Art club, Rotary club, Radio club, Optimist club, 100 Per Cent club and the Scouts.

COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY SERVICE—COMMUNITY SERVICE—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY

Community boosting is natural outgrowth of Community loyalty.

COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION

In co-operation is the greatest strength in Community building.

Realizing the Great Community Development Truth that a City Grows exactly as its Business and Merchandising Institutions Grow, these firms have given their hearty endorsement to the movement for co-operation between Glendale merchants and Glendale consumers

Real Boosters work together for a common purpose— a Greater Glendale

Boosting is a product peculiarly adapted to our soil, climate and habitat. Nowhere else in the world does this form of enthusiasm flourish so well as in Southern California and nowhere in Southern California are there more loyal boosters to the square inch than in Glendale.

European travelers say that the people of the old world tell them there is nothing to see in their cities when the great art galleries, old castles and ruins and historical landmarks are all about them. The people of Europe don't know the word boost. In a northern California city of considerable size and importance a visitor said to an employee in a hotel, "I am going out to see your city," and the reply was, "Well, you won't see much." Imagine, if you can, a citizen of Glendale making such a remark to a visitor.

Contrast these incidents with the convention of realtors in Pasadena and the enthusiasm with which Glendale real estate men sang the praises of their home city.

Community boosting must be the outgrowth of Community Loyalty. You must be imbued with Community Pride before you can boost. But cheering for Glendale is not the only outgrowth of Community Loyalty. It is easy to join the parade and cheer when the band is playing and the banners waving and enthusiasm is rife, but the true booster has just as much pride in his home town when the excitement has died down and everything is quiet. The real booster is true to Glendale when no one is looking at him. He works for Glendale, talks for Glendale and spends his money in Glendale.

The firms represented on this page are real Glendale boosters. They are imbued with the spirit of Community Loyalty. They know the interests of Glendale can best be served by all working together for a common purpose. Teamwork is as essential in Community building as it is in football. These men and women ask your trade and your co-operation in building a Greater Glendale.

CIVIC CENTER HAS ANOTHER BOOSTER

W.L. Truitt Explains Why He Opposes Views Taken by Protective League

Editor, The Evening News:—I want to take exception to some of the statements of the literature and advertisements of the so-called Taxpayers' Protective League.

In the first place, I have, on many, many occasions, enjoyed Pershing Square, when it was known as Central park. Twenty-five years or more ago, before I had a wife and family to keep me at home, many of my idle hours were spent reading and enjoying the cooling shade and the beauties of nature which it offered.

Secondly, the effort to cast a stigma on the reputation of those public-spirited citizens who are furthering this project. Personally, I am not now, nor do I expect to become, interested in any property or enterprise anywhere near the proposed site. On the other hand, I do own property on Glendale avenue, about one block from the present city hall.

I believe that every member of the committee is working from an unselfish standpoint. I believe they are working for it because they believe it is for the best interests of the city as a whole. I believe they are working for it because they feel that it will make for the moral and spiritual uplift of this community. I believe they are working for it because it will attract to this city people of wealth, people of refinement and culture, in large numbers, and because it will engender a greater civic spirit, a greater pride in our city and a priceless heritage to our children and the generations that are to follow.

Taxpayers Interested
Thirdly, the effort to make you believe that if these bonds are voted it is going to pauperize the city and convert you into slaves. It must be apparent to any intelligent citizen that we are not exempt from taxation ourselves. If you will look over the list of people who are supporting this measure you will find that they are all taxpayers, and many of them very large ones.

The statement that, if we vote this measure, which will cost 11 cents to carry, it will make our taxes next year just that much higher, is not founded on fact. Our municipal tax rate in 1922, with less than $1,000,000 of outstanding bonds was $1.55, and our tax rate this year, with more than $2,000,000 bonds outstanding, including the sewer bonds, is $1.11, the lowest of the twenty leading cities of this county. The increased taxable wealth has accrued to our city by reason of the increase in its population, because these new people have built new homes, or bought one that some one else has built; that they have bought furniture, automobiles and other personal property from our merchants; put money into our banks and populated our vacant land. This increased wealth has not only taken care of all the expenses of increased municipal bond issues, but has enabled a reduction of 44 cents to be made from the rate of two years ago.

Some Reasons Why
To the hardheaded business men of this city I want to say this: That, whether or not you are in favor of it, sooner or later you are going to be compelled to provide those things so necessary to modern city development. If you do not buy the necessary land now, while it is cheap, you will later, and pay the price. Instead of being hundreds of thousands, it will be millions. Your business is not entirely satisfactory now you are not doing the business you should be doing, or the volume you would be doing, if we, as Glendaleans, had already provided the modern city conveniences demanded by people of culture, refinement and wealth. You know that beauty will command a higher price than any other thing that has yet become known to modern civilization. You know why a silk dress will bring $100, when a calico one may be had for $3. You know why some homes will bring $10,000, when you can get one the same size for $5000.

About Valuations
Just a word about valuations. You have long been told that they have been raised this year beyond all proportions, but you know that you will not sell your property at twice its assessed value, and you also know that, if it were assessed at a smaller valuation each year, you would move heaven and earth to get rid of it and get into a community that was progressing and where your investments would be safe. Valuations were fixed by our county assessor, and I say to you that no man, woman or child in this city could in any way influence him to raise or lower his valuations unless it could be positively shown that a mistake had been made. Our city officials have no more to say as to our valuations than our most lowly citizen. Ed W. Hopkins, our veteran assessor, is supreme judge. I believe him to be as fair, as just, as competent and as honorable a man as there is in this great state. Evidently the other thousands of voters in this country think the same thing, for he has been returned to office year after year, and it is very seldom that any-

METHODISTS HEAR 'CHRISTIAN LIFE'

Three Characteristics of This Mode of Living Is Basis For Church Sermon

"Three Characteristics of a Christian Life" was the subject of the sermon yesterday by Rev. M. M. (Live-Wire) Johnson, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church. Quoting for his text: Second Timothy 1:7 "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind," he said:

"There are those who say that if we only believe that Jesus is divine, it is sufficient, but why do they stop there? Even some of His enemies say that; but I say to you He is divine and more—He is Deity—God made manifest in the flesh. Others think that one is a mental weakling if he considers Christ as more than a man. It is sad that some learned men can know so much about Jesus, but yet be in entire ignorance of Him, for to really know a person and to know about one can be induced to run against him."

I want my friends to know that I have faith in Glendale, I have faith in my fellow citizens, I believe that honesty stalks the earth, and that the crook is the exception. I believe that the intelligent people of this city will go to the polls next Tuesday and do their civic duty. I believe we are going to have a greater city, a better city, a more beautiful city, and I believe we will soon have a civic center, with a beautiful park, and the proper buildings to house our city government.

that person are two entirely different kinds of knowledge. A geologist can learn to know everything about rocks but be pitifully ignorant of the "Rock of Ages."

To Know Christ
"It matters not how much intellect you may have, how much refinement you may possess, how wonderfully equipped by scholarship and learning, nor how many facts you may have stored away in your brain, unless you know Jesus Christ you do not yet possess a sound mind. There are peculiarities in connection with every Christian's life that those of the world cannot understand, and I thank God for it. You can rest assured that if you are understood by the world then you are not a true Christian."

"Spiritual knowledge comes not by education but by revelation; Saul was highly educated and conscientious, but not until Jesus Christ was revealed to him on the road to Damascus did he know Him. The Jews look for signs; the Greek for wisdom, but the Christian looks to Jesus Christ and Him crucified, placing his hope and destiny on the cross and in the blood."

ATTEMPT TO DETRAIL TRAIN

New York Central Flyer Is Halted Before Hitting
500-Pound Shell

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 3.—A late night attempt to wreck "The Westerner," crack New York Central flyer, at the Orange street crossing, was frustrated when the train was brought to a grinding halt, five feet short of a ten inch shell, weighing 500 pounds which, if loaded, would have contained enough high explosive to wreck the train and adjacent houses, it became known today.

Dim lights of the engine, used when passing through city streets, did not disclose the presence of the shell on the tracks until the heavy train was nearly upon it.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—No additional deaths or new cases had been reported here today from a type of pneumonia which caused the death of Mrs. Luciana Samanero October 19 and has since claimed the lives of twenty others. Nine persons were reported by the authorities as suffering from the disease.

All of the persons who attended Mrs. Samanero's funeral services were dead today, including the priest who conducted the services. The bodies of the victims claimed by the deadly type of pneumonia are being burned without religious services of any kind.

Los Angeles health authorities have established a quarantine in the homes of the persons suffering from the malady and also in a portion of the Mexican colony, where the disease was said to have started.

General Feng is now master of this situation which started with his coup of seizing Peking and the war in North China is ended. Peking is quiet under the new government with the first meeting of the cabinet scheduled for today.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

A Manchester, England, dispatch says that not since the boom of five years ago has there been such activity and strength in the British cotton mills as noticeable at the present time.

With 2,386,052 ballots cast the Literary Digest's poll gives Coolidge 1,348,033; Davis, 505,410; and La Follette 508,516, according to this morning's report.

W. L. Darnell & Co., New York. They also have $16,000 against $10,000 on Coolidge's election. They also have $16,000 against $10,000 on Governor Al Smith's re-election over T. Roosevelt, Jr.

Reduced sales in the Studebaker motor cars are explained by the break in production caused by the change in models. Orders for the next quarter are exceeding any previous period.

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson has announced his intention of forwarding a copy of the development number to First Assistant Postmaster General John H. Barrett. The edition contains a splendid cut of the new Glendale postoffice building and its employees. It is accompanied by a story telling of the new structure and the growth and activity of the department here.

COOLIDGE LOOMS VICTOR AT POLLS

Every Indication He Will Receive Big Majority
On Election Day

The Mason-Dixon line, but he won. The Republicans counter this line of reasoning by pointing to the fact that eight years ago there was not the confusing factor of a strong and militant independent candidacy such as La Follette's. While it is true, they say, that La Follette has cut heavily into Republican territory in the West, it is also true that the Wisconsin insurgent deeply tapped the enormous labor vote that has usually been Democratic.

Hurts Both Sides
Impartial observers incline to the belief that La Follette's sword has been two-edged—that he has cut deeply, and, for all practical purposes, equally into both major parties. He has hurt the Republicans in the West by taking such normally Republican states as Wisconsin and North Dakota out of the Republican column, but he has hurt the Democrats in such states as New York, for instance, by appealing to the labor group.

The onrushing spectacle of a three-cornered fight for the presidency has, to a considerable extent overshadowed the all-important fight for control of Congress. More than one-third of the Senate, thirty-four seats, to be elected, are at stake in tomorrow's balloting, and an entire new House of Representatives.

Conflicts Complicated
In many states the conflicts are so complicated by local quarrels and factional differences that some surprising paradoxes may be expected.

One example of this may be seen in Colorado. Most of the "experts" and political prophets give the six electoral votes of this state to Coolidge, and yet most of them are inclined to the belief that Colorado will elect two Democratic senators. The senatorial fight, at any rate is close.

Similarly, in Indiana, a majority of the best opinion gives the state to Coolidge and to the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Dr. Charles B. McCulloch.

Predict Scratching
These are but two examples of the many confusing cross-currents involved in tomorrow's balloting. Experienced observers have predicted that there will be more ticket scratching tomorrow than in any national election in recent history.

Barring landslides—and there are comparatively few forecasters who anticipate any such event—it is altogether probable that existing lines in Congress will not be materially altered.

In the House, the Republicans may increase their present narrow majority, but in the Senate they will be fortunate to do so. This is due entirely to bitter local factional fights, such as, for instance, obtains in Oklahoma, Colorado and Rhode Island.

Governor Richardson Urges Coolidge Victory

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Governor Richardson, arriving here today, issued the following statement:

"I will vote in Berkeley tomorrow. Every voter who favors tax reduction and business efficiency in government and who stands for splendid system of jurisprudence should vote for Coolidge. The election of Coolidge will be a blow to waste and anarchy."

"Eighteen state amendments come up. If you are not convinced of the worth of an amendment, don't vote. All financial propositions should be viewed with suspicion."

Washington Youth Is Given Another Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Edgar Randolph Perrygo, 21, whose mental condition has been likened by alienists to that of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., the young Chicago murderers, and who has been convicted of first degree murder, will have a new trial, the District of Columbia court of appeals ruled today. Perrygo killed Mrs. Emily Faithful, an aged woman, in 1920, when he was 17 years old and robbed her of a sum of money so he could get married.

Work of restoring Nelson's famous flagship, the "Victory," has been started at Portsmouth, England.

CRIME OF WAR IS PASTOR'S SERMON

Rev. Livingston Tells Casa
Verdugo Congregation
Of 'Blackest Sin'

Rev. J. C. Livingston, pastor of Casa Verdugo Methodist church, 1203 North Central avenue, in his sermon yesterday discussed "the Christian attitude toward the crime of war."

He said: "There is a glorious trinity in our citizenship—Home, Country and God—but the greatest of these is God. For a long time we have been taking our enemies and characterizing war as the 'blackest crime of the ages.'"

"But then we began to see its application in the affairs of men. In the days of the civil war went down the homes of Kentucky, one to the north and another to the south, the urge was the call of country, but the higher urge was the call of conscience that determined to which side they would go. The call of country was the call of home, but for the call of conscience they would break down all the sacred ties of home."

Religious Liberty
"The first amendment to the constitution of our country sets the right of religious conscience above every legislative power of Congress. The only flag that Americans hang above Old Glory, is the white flag symbolic of the regal rights of God, and we hang that every Sunday morning on the flag staff of every battleship in the United States navy. Into the very fibre and fabric of our land have been written by implication 'We must obey God rather than man.'"

"That being established, what ought to be the attitude of the Christian church and the individual and national conscience in the matter of war, the blackest crime of the ages? Which ought we to follow, the mailed fist of hate and blood, and carnage, or the sword of peace and good-will among men?"

Status of Ancients
"We are told that this question was never put up to Jesus Christ. I wonder. If Germany had won the world war and established herself in Belgium the situation would have been precisely that of Palestine in the days of our Lord. Enervated Rome was in the saddle. Greece was without vitality. Alexander had gone out from little Macedonia to conquer a world. Our Lord, out in the wilderness, knew that He had a personality that as a crusader would make Him invincible. That His people waited to hail just such an emancipator. But when Satan said, 'All these things will I give thee' His answer was, 'Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.' He knew and would have us know that 'They that take the sword shall perish by the sword.'"

'Mad Old World'
"Poor, mad, old world waiting to kill itself. After six thousand years, without originally enough to devise any method to heal a world except to gas and bomb and claw and tear. In the face of the world's greatest problem no advancement beyond the barbarian of the jungle."

"We are told that it is a necessary evil. That if a mad dog breaks loose the only thing is to kill him. How would it be to also find out what makes dogs mad? Instead of flaunting defiance and insult in the face of Japan and Mexico, take a little of the grace of Christian respect. Instead of enervating hate for Germany, a little Good Samaritan helpfulness. Love your enemies! Other things have failed. The church of Jesus Christ can never again bless war. Christian conscience, unhampered by national hatreds and jealousies can alone save this war-crazed world."

'Soul's Supreme Need'
Dr. H. C. Funk's Text

Speaking on the subject of "The Soul's Supreme Need" yesterday, at Holy Communion, Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of the First Lutheran church, said: "The first thing essential is a consciousness of sin. The spirit of the age, however, is against the doctrine of the depravity of the human soul, and many are deceived thereby. Yet Paul, the greatest of the apostles, declared that he was the chief of sinners. Indeed, our need of forgiveness must be very great, for the Lord has taught us so to pray each day. And because the supreme need of the human soul is assurance of divine pardon, we wish to discuss the power to forgive sins. The church must place a new valuation on the power of absolution, for we hold that the great mission of the church is to comfort the sick souls with the declaration of full forgiveness. Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them and whosoever sins ye retain, they are retained. The stern old prophet Jeremiah, declared that the heart was deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked."

'Worship' Is St. Mark's
Rector's Sunday Talk

"Worship" was the subject taken by Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector at St. Mark's Episcopal church for the morning service yesterday. Text was taken from St. John 4:23 "But the hour cometh and now is when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship Him." Rev. Kemp said it was the mission of the church to create the spirit of worship in the heart of the people. "Church services are not merely for moral guidance but are for spiritual leadership as well," he said.

HURLS CHALLENGE AT CHRISTIANITY

Church Is Slumbering Today,
Declares Rev. Edmonds
In His Sermon

Rev. W. E. Edmonds spoke on "A Slumbering Church," Romans 13:11, yesterday morning at the Glendale Presbyterian church. His sermon, a challenge to all professing Christians, was in part as follows:

"There is nothing more wonderful and valuable as God's marvelous gift, nature's great restorer—sleep. Like a new creation to awake each morning with a fresh anointing of life and energy. On the other hand, there are times when sleep is the greatest of perils. When robbers are stealing your treasures, or fire devours your home and threatens your life, or it may be the sleep of sin and indifference."

The need of an awakening on the part of the church is that we may see things as God sees them. He waits to show us ourselves and Himself. If this old troubled world is ever to find peace it will be lives such as yours and mine awakened and responsive to the call of God. When Henry Stanley attended the funeral of David Livingstone at Westminster Abbey he had a vision of his own selfish life and there he consecrated himself to a high and noble purpose, and today Africa is open to missions because Henry Stanley had that true awakening."

"Thomas Chalmers was a lazy and indolent preacher. He read a lukewarm sermon once a week to his congregation and spent his week-days idling and fishing in the highlands. He read the life story of Wilberforce, that great self-sacrificing liberator of England's slaves. The soul of Chalmers awoke and he became the great leader of the Scottish-Free church."

"That was a great awakening in the reformation under Luther. In the seventeenth century Wesley and Whitfield stirred the world to another great awakening. Oh, for an awakening today! Better cease to exist," said Lord Shaftsbury, 'than to die of dry rot.' God save us from becoming hypnotized, yes, fossilized by the world, the flesh and the devil. The best you can say of Christianity as manifest today is that it is a slumbering Christianity. May God awake us. People asleep are often intensely interested in unreal things—dreams."

The Wrath To Come

CHAPTER XII
"The young lady and I are very good friends," he observed. "That may be your feeling but it is not hers," she said composedly. "You look as though you thought that it was not my affair. It is not. I will speak to you of another matter."

"As soon as you please, I must be getting back to my friends before long."

She stirred her tea lazily. "I shall not keep you from them," she promised. "Do you know the man who came in with Yvonne Cortot from the Cafe de Paris?"

"I have never seen him before," Grant replied.

"His name is Itash," she continued. "Count Itash. Some of the girls call him Sammy—I do not know why. You are an American, are you not?"

"I am," he admitted.

"I think I may call myself one," he asserted, a little bewildered.

"Then you should beware of Count Itash," the girl said slowly. "Count Itash does not love your country. He would hurt you if he could."

Grant felt that she was watching him out of the corner of her eyes. He laughed with pretended scorn.

"My dear young lady," he protested, "all that sort of thing died a natural death many years ago. I don't suppose there is any great friendliness between our nations, but we get on all right nowadays."

"Do you? I am not so sure."

Count Itash does not think so either. I have heard him speak of disputes in Washington."

"Count Itash seems to be a very indiscreet young man," Grant observed. "There may have been a little trouble lately but all things are settled now in a friendly way."

"There is something coming soon," she warned him, "which will not be settled in a friendly way. There is a demand soon to be made in Washington which may end in a threat."

"A threat of what? The days of wars are over."

She turned her head slightly. "Only for those," she reminded him, "who belong to the Pact of Nations."

"What on earth do you know about the Pact of Nations?" he asked curiously.

"I know everything there is to be known. I have a capable instructor."

"I am more than ever convinced," he said drily, "that Count Itash is a very indiscreet young man."

She knocked the ash from her cigarette onto a plate.

"Count Itash has never addressed a word to me on the subject in his life," she assured him. "Who is your informant, then?"

"Count Itash."

"You indulge in conundrums," he remarked.

"Why waste time on the unimportant?" she queried scornfully. "I can tell you great truths. What does it matter how I came by them? You would scarcely believe me if you knew, and it really does not matter. The truth is all that matters."

"Who is it that you imagine to be plotting against my country?" he asked.

"Japan and Germany. Possibly China also. You know what Germany lives for? Revenge. As the years go by, her schemes mature. She is nearer the end now than at any time. Shall I tell you of two things which will happen before many years have passed?"

"I fancy that you're a prophet of woe. But let's hear, anyway."

"Prince Frederick will have been proclaimed Emperor of Germany."

THE GATEWAY

Among the notables who have expressed themselves upon the brilliant success of "Yolanda," Marion Davies' latest starring picture now being shown at the Gateway Theatre, today and Tuesday, are Sidney Olcott, famous motion picture director, who directed Miss Davies in "Little Old New York," and Cecil Arden, Metropolitan Opera star.

Mr. Olcott, in a letter addressed to the Cosmopolitan studio, says: "I want you to know that I think 'Yolanda' a beautiful picture and ably directed by Mr. Vignola. Miss Davies is also to be heartily congratulated upon her charmingly artistic performance in the title role."

Miss Arden, after attending a performance of the picture, declared: "I do not know when I have seen a more artistic production than 'Yolanda' and Miss Davies seems to have just the right deftness of touch to bring out the beauty and charm of the maid, but always with a feeling that behind it all lay a great spirit. I think the entire 'Yolanda' production is wonderful."

A notable supporting cast includes such stars of stage and screen as Holbrook Blinn, Lyn Harding, Ralph Graves, Leon Errol, Johnny Dooley, Ian MacLaren, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Theresa Maxwell Conover, Mary Kennedy, Paul McAllister and Roy Applegate.

"Yolanda" was directed by Robert G. Vignola, and "adapted by" Luther Reed from Charles Major's story of the same name.

Insulin is an extract from the pancreas of the sheep.

many, and Germany and Russia will have declared war against the world."

"Has your informant also vouchsafed the information as to where the money is to come from?"

"From the conquest of America."

"God bless my soul!" Grant gasped.

The orchestra was playing a waltz now. The music seemed to reach them in little ripples of melody. The sound of voices grew louder, and even the popping of corks more insistent. A young man came round towards the bar and paused to glance meditatively at the two occupants of the almost empty room. Afterwards he ignored them and seated himself on one of the stools in front of the bar.

MURPHY COMEDIANS

"Peg o' My Heart" received a big ovation on its opening last night at the tent theatre of Murphy Comedians No. 2, San Fernando boulevard at Cedar street, Burbank. The people like the old favorites and "Peg" is one of the most whimsical, charming characterizations that has ever come to the American stage.

The cast throughout was excellent and Barbara Gurney as "Peg" recalled Laurette Taylor, who created the role and enchanted New York audiences with it some years ago. This is a play of delightful romance, with heart interest predominant. People came out of the big tent last night younger than when they went in.

That's the kind of a play it is. "Peg o' My Heart" will continue throughout the week, the curtain rising each night at 8:15 o'clock, announces J. W. Davis, manager, while the tent will be open at 7:15 o'clock, for those who wish to be sure of getting seats. The tent is heated, and there is ample parking space in the vicinity for the cars of all patrons, Mr. Davis states.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"Turn to the Right" will play for another week at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, starting with a 2:30 o'clock Wednesday matinee, announces Mrs. Florence Robinson of the Dobinson Players. This play is from the pens of two noted dramatists, Winchell Smith and John E. Hazard, and is regarded as one of the most successful of modern American dramas. It has given pleasure to millions and Mrs. Robinson feels certain it will please Glendale show-goers.

Here is a play drawn true to life, its characters real folks, just as everyone knows people to be, and with one of the sweetest regeneration-through-love themes that has ever come to the stage pervading its atmosphere with a wholesome fragrance. Georgia Woodthorpe, grand old lady of the stage, has been especially engaged for the immortal role of Mrs. Bascom, the loving mother.

Joe, the boy who is trying to make good, will be played by William H. Stephens.

THE GLENDALE

Florence Vidor in "Barbara Frietchie" continues at the Glendale theatre.

THE T. D. & L.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FIRE ENGINE

Uncle Wiggily and his muskrat lady housekeeper, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, were eating breakfast in the hollow stump bungalow one morning, when, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily reached for the milk to put some on his carrot oatmeal.

"Wait a minute!" whispered Nurse Jane, raising her paw.

"What's the matter—is the milk sour?" asked the bunny.

"No, but I heard someone coming up the front steps," whispered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I hope it isn't the Spot Cat!"

Uncle Wiggily's pink nose turned a bit pale, but he tried to look brave.

"I'm not afraid of the Spot Cat," said the rabbit.

Just then the door opened and Uncle Wiggily was going to jump under the breakfast table to hide, but he saw it was only Curly Twisttail, the little pig boy.

"Hi!" greeted Curly.

"Oh, good morning, answered Uncle Wiggily, smiling. 'I'm glad you aren't the Spot Cat.'"

"What did you want, Curly?" asked Nurse Jane, whose heart was beating rather fast. "Did your mother send you over to borrow some sugar or coffee?"

"No, ma'am," grunted the little pig boy. "I came to see if Uncle Wiggily would play fire engine with me."

"Play fire engine with you? What do you mean?" asked Nurse Jane. "Uncle Wiggily can't play with you—he's too busy!"

"He played house with Baby Bunty and Jennie Chipmunk yesterday," grunted Curly, sort of sad like and disappointed.

"Yes and I'll play fire engine with you, if you will tell me how," cried Uncle Wiggily in his jolly voice. "Come on, Curly! I have had enough breakfast. We'll play fire engine. But how do you do it?"

"Well," said Curly, "you hop up and down the path and you puff out smoke, and I holler 'Fire! Fire! Fire!' as loud as anything."

"But how can I puff out smoke?" asked the bunny.

"Here," went on Curly. "I took some of my mother's talcum powder of her dresser. Throw some talcum powder up in the air and it will look just like smoke, and he took a box of the white, sweet-smelling powder from his pocket.

"Ho! Ho! That's the very thing to play fire engine with!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Now for some fun."

Quickly he ate his carrot oatmeal and then he went out on the path with Curly.

"It's better for you to be the fire engine and hop, 'cause you can go fast," grunted the little pig. "I'm too slow for a fire engine. But I can holler!"

So Curly shouted: "Fire! Fire! Fire! very loudly."

"Here I come. Here comes the fire engine!" cried Uncle Wiggily, and around the corner of a tree he hopped, tossing a cloud of talcum powder in the air so it looked just like smoke puffing out. "Here I come!" cried the rabbit.

"Yes, and here I come!" shouted another voice, and there was the Bob Cat. "I came to nibble your ears!" he howled.

"Fire! Fire!" squealed Curly.

"Engine! Engine!" shouted Uncle Wiggily. With that he threw a lot of talcum powder in the eyes of the Bob Cat.

"Ka-choo! Ka-choo! Ka-choo!" sneezed the bad chap, and then, slipping himself head over tail in a somersault, away he ran, not nibbling any ears that day.

"This is lots of fun, isn't it?" squealed the piggie boy.

"Indeed, it is!" laughed the bunny. Then he played fire engine again. And if the cow, which jumped over the moon, doesn't leave sour milk for the rag doll's breakfast, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily making a drum.

WHITE SOX ROSE TO GILMORE OIL

Contest Is Finished Under Protest on Ruling by Umpire Bacon

The Southern California Winter league schedule started yesterday with the Gilmore Oilers taking a hard-fought battle from Glendale White Sox, 5 to 4, BUT—the game was finished under protest after a near riot had been averted in the last half of the ninth inning.

Marty Krug, pilot of the Los Angeles Angels last season, who was the hero of the Coast league schedule when he brought his charges from cellar position to next to top in the final six weeks, was the honor guest yesterday, playing second base for the Glendale team. Over 3,000 baseball fans turned out to pay tribute to the Seraph boss.

Ken Penner, pitching ace of the Vernon team last season, was on the mound for Glendale, while "Ferdie" Schupp, one time hurling star of the New York Giants, pitched for Gilmore. Bert Whaling, former Boston Red Sox catcher, who was with that team when Boston won the world series, worked behind the log for the Oilers, with "Tubby" Spencer of the Angels, doing the receiving for the visitors.

Contest Close

Penner fanned seven and walked three. Schupp retired seven by the strikeout route and walked four. The Oilers got next to top in the eighth, while the Sox could get off Schupp was five bingles. Gilmore opened the scoring by getting two in the third and followed with another marker in the fourth. Glendale tied the count in the fifth.

Charley Dorman and Berger

were the heavy hitting stars for the Sox. Dorman started the game for the locals by sending a slashing hit over third base to left field for a triple. In the fifth he hit a liner to second that rolled to the fence and succeeded in stretching it into a homer, scoring Shields and Pfahler ahead of him. Berger smashed out a single in his first trip to the plate, and in the ninth inning, slammed out the hit that brought the protest. Pfahler connected for a single in the fifth, which accounted for all the hits by the locals.

That Ninth Inning

The ninth inning opened with the Oilers leading by two runs, driven across in the eighth by Davis. The Oilers went out in order in their half of the ninth. Schupp hitting to Pfahler, Carlisle sending a grounder to Berger and Rader out, Penner to Berger.

Penner was first up for the Sox, going out, Rader to McKnight. Emerson walked and was hit by a second by Shields, who hit to Beaumiller. Shields took second when Chellenger overthrew first in an attempt for a double play.

Berger lined one out to left field fence. Davis, playing that garden, in attempting to recover it, booted it under an automobile. By the time he recovered the ball, Berger was tearing in to third. In the throw to catch Berger at third, Beaumiller dropped the ball. Berger raced home with the run that would have tied the score.

Then the Protest

This run Gilmore Oilers refused to allow. Fans gathered about Umpire Bacon when he ordered Berger back to third, claiming that the ball had hit the automobile and under the car. The umpire was only good for a triple. The ground rule, as agreed upon between managers of the two teams before the game, was—batted balls going under automobiles parked around the outer edge of the field were to go in play. Bacon stood by his decision and after considerable argument the field was cleared and play resumed. Pfahler ended the inning and game by hitting to Rader.

Two snappy double plays by Glendale ended the game in the third with Rader on first. Vache hit a long fly to left. Emerson made a running catch and a perfect peg to Berger on first, doubling Rader. In the fifth, after Carlisle got on through Krug's error, Rader hit to French, who tossed him out at first. Rader was caught at first, French to Krug to Berger.

EXPECT BEARS TO WIN COAST TITLE

U. S. C. Defeat Saturday and Washington Beat by Oregon Are Upsets

By MILLER HOLLAND
For International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—It's beginning to look like another Blue and Gold year in the Pacific Coast football.

California did the unexpected in Berkeley Saturday and handed the strong University of Southern California Trojans a 7 to 0 knockout after one of the greatest gridiron battles of the present coast season. This, taken in connection with the wholly unexpected victory of Washington Huskies by Oregon in Eugene that same Saturday afternoon, would seem to indicate that the Bears have better than an even chance of finishing out their fifth consecutive year of undefeated football.

Washington's defeat—the first one this season—was as great an upset as the beating of U. S. C. for, up to Saturday, the Huskies were considered the most likely contenders for the 1924 coast gridiron championship. Washington meets California in Seattle this week-end.

Stanford Wins

Aside from California there is only one other undefeated football team in the coast conference today, and that one is Stanford. The Cardinals beat the fighting Bronchos of Santa Clara university Friday in Palo Alto, 20 to 0, in a non-conference game.

Stanford mixes it with U. S. C. at Los Angeles next Saturday in what apparently will be the last contest between the Southern college and a northern California team, following the joint announcement made at Berkeley last Saturday that with the end of the present football season neither California nor Stanford would have further athletic relations with U. S. C. This action followed several days of discussion over eligibility rules between the three universities.

HENDERSON TELLS WHY TEAM LOST

Attack by Nevada Squad And Lack of General Reasons Offered

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Ravages of the husky Nevada team a week prior to the California game and lack of a field general cost the University of Southern California Bears in Berkeley Saturday. Coach Elmer Henderson of the Trojans declared on his arrival here today.

"Nevada knocked the tar out of my players and they were not right Saturday," said Henderson. "They were terribly off."

Hawkins, U. S. C. quarter, did not stand up any too well while under fire, according to Henderson.

"The Bears concentrated their attack on Hawkins and he got pretty much rattled," the Trojan coach admitted.

It was "blue" Monday at U. S. C. campus today. Defeat by California was a shock to the Trojans from which they have not yet recovered, but more serious was the break in athletic relations between the Los Angeles university and California and Stanford.

Eastern teams, it was said, will be brought here next year when the third with Rader on first. Vache hit a long fly to left. ## BASEBALL NOTRE DAME AND ILLINI DOMINANT

Football Situation in South And East Is In Muddle; Titles Uncertain

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Illinois and Notre Dame remained dominant teams in the west as a result of Saturday's football games. California and Stanford continued to rule the coast but the east and south remained in a muddle. In the two latter regions, the situation, if any, features at least three teams that have a chance for the sectional title; in the others, definite contenders already have been developed and outlined by the season's play to date.

Chicago still is tied with the Illini at two victories each but the Maroon has one tie game where Illinois has none and the respective showings of the two teams indicate a down state decision when they meet next Saturday.

Van Nuys nosed out the Tom Mix Wildcats, 5 to 4, yesterday, at Van Nuys. Henning accounted for two of the Wildcats' scores when he drove out a homer with one on.

Vanuys overcame a six-run lead piled up by the White Kings and won a twelve-inning game at Los Angeles, 8 to 7. Lefty Thomas hurled for Vernon with Doc Crandall on the mound for the soap boys, at the start. Ludolph relieved Thomas in the second and went the route. Payne hurled the last seven innings for White Kings.

SIX TEAMS LEAD IN CLEAN SLATES

Yale, Dartmouth, Syracuse, Penn, Lehigh, Rutgers Are Undefeated

By TOM THORPE
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Yale, Dartmouth, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Lehigh and Rutgers are the undefeated teams of the east. Yale kept its slate clean by fighting it out to a tie with the Army up in the New Haven bowl. Syracuse held its grasp on the top-most rung through a tie with Pittsburgh, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Lehigh and Rutgers charged up wins.

Outside of this, the triumph of Cornell over Columbia up at Ithaca was the big outstanding happening on eastern gridirons the past week-end.

Lou Young looks to have a championship outfit with Pennsylvania. The former Red and white star has more than made good with his task of putting the Philadelphia seat of learning back on the football map. Pennsylvania beat La Fayette Saturday.

Dartmouth beat Brown with something to spare. The present Green outfit looks like the greatest Dartmouth team of recent years. They should give a good account of themselves against Cornell two weeks hence. Syracuse encountered stiff opposition in Pittsburgh.

The remaining big teams came through. Harvard, Princeton, Penn State, Holy Cross, Boston college, Carnegie Tech, Williams, Bucknell, Colgate and West Virginia played good football.

Grange and Baker Tie In Scores for West

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—"Red" Grange of Illinois and Baker of Northwestern are tied in the scoring of the western football teams. Grange scored twelve points Saturday and Baker eleven, bringing their total to 54 points. Cal's Sophomore Illini, scored two touchdowns Saturday and holds third position with 40 points.

Little Church to Give Joint Musical Sunday

In the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park, musicals are given Sunday afternoons from 3 till 5 o'clock. Glendale music lovers anticipate the recital next Sunday afternoon when Wesley Kuhnle, young California organist and pianist, now a Glendale resident, will appear in joint recital with Gertrude Childs Huntington, soprano. Mr. Kuhnle will play compositions by Beethoven, Mendelssohn and Brahms.

Tryon, Colgate's Star, Holds Lead In Points

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Benkert, star Rutgers college halfback, and Tryon, of Colgate, today were the leaders of other eastern candidates for high scoring marks as a result of Saturday's contests. Benkert had 82 points and Tryon had tallied 87. Brady, star of a 71-0 victory for West Virginia, jumped to third place with a total of 65 points. Benkert leads in touchdowns, with thirteen.

Olympic Club Winner In Game at Bay City

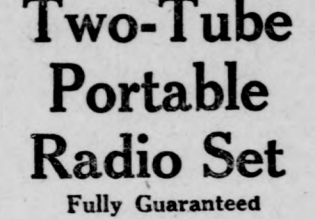

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The football team of the Olympic club of San Francisco defeated the Agnetian club, also of this city, 27 to 0, here yesterday afternoon.

Burglars Take Radio Set From Electric Co.

Broadway Electric Co. at 202 East Broadway was burglarized Saturday night and a five-tube radio set valued at $180 stolen. N. P. Scott, proprietor of the store, discovered the theft yesterday morning when he arrived at 8 o'clock to take an invoice of stock. He reported to the Glendale police department and an investigation was begun. It was discovered thieves had gained entrance through the skylight, by removing a pane of glass and letting themselves down by means of a cable. The radio set was the only article taken. They made their get-away through a rear door.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

THE HISTORY OF SCARLET FEVER

In olden times there used to be regular plagues of scarlet fever. They were known as "Ulcerous Sore Throat," the "Disease of Strangulation," and by the Spanish word "Garrotillo." Undoubtedly diphtheria was included in these epidemics.

According to Vaughan's "Epidemiology and Public Health," from which I got this historical data, the famous Dr. Sydenham in 1665 was the first to name and describe the disease, although it was apparent by his writings that he never saw a severe case. In the writings of Sibbald, a Scottish physician (1684) the following paragraph appears. (Notice his reference to diet):

"Just as the luxury of man increases every day, so there grow up new diseases, of not unknown to former generations, yet untreated by them. Nor is this surprising, since new depravations of the humors arise from the diet and from various mixtures of the same. Among the many diseases which owe their origin to this age, there has been most recently observed a fever which is called scarlatina, from the carmine color with which almost the whole skin is tinted. Of this disease, the observations are not so many that an accurate theory can be constructed."

In 1775 a great epidemic of scarlet fever occurred in New England. In Belknap's history of New Hampshire the following appears:

"About this time, the country was visited with a new epidemic disease which has attained the name of the throat distemper. . . . The most who died of this pestilence were children; and the distress which it occasioned, was heightened to the most poignant degree. From three to six children were lost out of some families; several buried four in a day and many lost their all. In some towns, one in three, and in others one in four of the sick were carried off. Twenty families buried all their children. . . . Since the settlement of this country such a mortality had not been known."

Noah Webster believed that this epidemic, and all epidemics, were due to earthquakes, floods and the approach of comets, and he combined the theory of infections. In his writings we find:

"In 1769 the summer was very hot, and in the autumn appeared a comet with a cast coma. Venus passed over the sun's disk on the third of June; there was a small earthquake in New England and a great tempest. Among the diseases in America is mentioned a fatal angina in Boston and other towns, but I am not furnished with its history. ("Angina" means a sore throat, especially with suffocating attacks.) Scarlet fever (sometimes called scarlatina) is an acute specific infectious disease, due to germs of the family Streptococcus Hemolyticus. In most cases, the disease begins abruptly with the symptoms of a chill or chilly sensations and a headache, vomiting, sore throat, the second or third day there appears a scarlet rash, most often appearing on the front of the neck and chest, from whence it rapidly spreads over the arms and legs. As a rule, the forehead and lips are unusually pale and the cheeks are highly flushed with fever, and giving such a characteristic that it is sometimes called the scarlet fever mask.

The rash which consists of pinhead red points and is sometimes spoken of as boiled lobster rash, continues to develop for two or three days, and then rapidly fades and the skin begins to peel. This peeling may continue for two or three weeks or longer. Sometimes the soles of the palms and fingers and the soles of the toes. The tongue has a characteristic look—it is little papillae become red and swollen so that it looks very much like a strawberry and is known as the strawberry tongue. The throat is deep red and swollen and may be ulcerated.

Bible Students

Glendale people are again invited by the Tuesday Afternoon club to attend the meeting of the Bible department, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the palm court of the clubhouse. This is the only unit of the club open to the public. With Miss Winifred Rouzee as teacher, much of interest and value is offered for Bible students, or for those desiring to learn of the Bible. At the meeting two weeks ago Miss Rouzee announced her subject as "Through the Bible, a Book at a Time." Tomorrow Miss Rouzee will begin with Genesis. #### A FEW FACTS

I came to Glendale Calif. 2 1/2 years ago. I purchased a well built new four-room home, close in, on West
Lex. It was considered a good buy at the price. I have lived there and improved it in every respect. I was offered $5000 five mo.
ago, but I did not have any reason to sell. My business is now located in San Fernando. "I must sell."
I will take $4500, good terms.
I will sell you my home. Buy it.
You don't want a home? During my absence I have arranged for you to see it by calling Glen 342-J.

I WANT TO SELL MY HOME.

Club Woman Tells How To Bring Out Voters

"My club is called the Household club. Its officers are father, mother (that is I), two sons of age, the housemaid, the man who mows our lawn and others who frequent the clubhouse, which is our home. We are registered 100 per cent and we are going to get out our vote Tuesday 100 per cent for Coolidge."

Such was the declaration of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Glendale clubwoman, in a symposium on "How to Get Out the Vote," conducted last week in the Catholic Women's clubhouse by the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president.

Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley was the leader, and fully twenty clubs gave interesting reports. Mrs. Campbell's report was the only one to receive applause and was the only one in which a candidate was mentioned.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

This comment is being written aboard the steamer Yale, en route to San Diego. It is Sunday evening, with the moon fast disappearing through a curtain of cloud on the western horizon, all of which gives promise of a storm. In the distance the lights of San Pedro and Long Beach are passing from view—twinkling evidence of Los Angeles' harbor.

You know the harbor always is a good topic for commenting upon. It is the outstanding addition to the great metropolis of Southern California. It is a creature of destiny, as it were. Nine years ago the writer knew it for the unimportant port it was then. Why, San Pedro itself had just been annexed to Los Angeles and harbor improvement bonds voted.

Then along came the war and shipbuilding plants, giving the former swamp or bayou or marsh, or whatever you may call it, the impetus for quick growth. Along came the building boom following the war and gave it trade in addition to that it already had. Along came the Pacific fleet naval headquarters and gave it importance, while in the meantime Los Angeles had been growing industrially and commercially to such an extent that its harbor became foremost on the Pacific coast in intercoastal shipping.

Quite a story, that—the making of a port of call for all nations of the world. Twenty-eight different flags and nearly 500 vessels visited Los Angeles harbor in October.

The average resident of Glendale vicinity knows little about the seaport so near, yet the newspaper for this year, the metal of the type, the tobacco you smoke, the clothing you wear, the foreign goods you buy—come by the all-water route to Los Angeles. So it is that the harbor is really an important factor in daily life. Watch it grow with the country!

Tomorrow comes the national election. Many political writers put California in the doubtful list. This writer knows his own state fairly well, having traveled its length and breadth in order to know the people first hand.

Now this body politic is "doubtful," according to political experts, most of whom reside and write in the east. They get their news and views principally through the eyes and ears of San Francisco. That is why they say "doubtful."

California is going to give Coolidge more than a safe majority over the combined votes of La Follette and Davis, the writer has every reason to believe.

Politically speaking, there is little else to draw the attention of the voters, for there is every assurance that Congressman Walter P. Lineberger will be returned as will Assemblyman Frank C. Weller, for their respective offices.

But there are local state and one county issue worthy of every citizen's consideration. Exercise your franchise as a citizen. Go to the polls tomorrow and vote!

Glendale Dog Awarded Honors at Kennel Show

Prize dogs from Glendale were awarded honors last week at the San Diego kennel show, held in Balboa park, San Diego. Mrs. F. S. Card of 209 Alta street, La Crescenta, returned last night from the southern city, reporting that her collie, Mona Fay, won three blue ribbons, and a reserve for the best female collie in the show. Mrs. A. A. Perry of 15 South Central avenue, won honors with her Pekingese, Mrs. Card said that the show was splendidly conducted and patrons were well treated.

LOS ANGELES EARNS TITLE OF 'PORT OF MISSING MEN'

Search For People From All Over Country Becomes Specialty With Police, Who Keep Lookout For Such Cases

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Are you a victim of amnesia? If you are, the homicide squad of the sheriff's office will be looking for you when you get lost.

Sheriff Tracer, through Chief Criminal Deputy R. H. Wright, has assigned the task of finding lost persons to Captain William Bright's division of detectives.

Los Angeles is known by the police officers of the country as the port of missing men—particularly married men. Youngsters, when they leave home for the "wild and woolly west," are certain to make Los Angeles their destination.

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southern News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—"Where is my wandering boy tonight?" How many heart throbs that phrase of an old song has created in the breasts of mothers in the four corners of the earth as they patiently wait the familiar footfall on the doorstep of the old home, be it ever so humble.

Search for missing persons, men and women, young and old, has become a specialty in Los Angeles, which has become known as "Port of Missing Men." With the Nordic races turning westward, it is commonly believed that fully fifty per cent of the people who leave their old haunts eventually wind their way to Los Angeles.

Also in this climate, where one can live on the fruits of the land and sleep under the canopy of the heavens, there is every inducement to the discontented stranger. And strange to say, married men and children provide the largest number of cases for sheriff's office here to investigate.

Eighty Per Cent Increase

About a month ago, when the list of missing increased to eighty, Captain William Bright of the homicide squad was assigned the additional task of directing search, principally because the element of foul play enters into many cases.

Police likewise share in the searches where conditions point to the victim remaining in the city. Patrolmen and detectives always are on the lookout for lost children. It is from the suburban and poorer districts that the greater number of appeals come to the sheriff's office to find lost, strayed or stolen youngsters.

Pasadena had an epidemic of missing men last summer, one or two cases still being unsolved. Occasionally a man leaves home, bag and baggage, but as a general thing she writes to friends and they in turn inform the officers.

Gives Real Problem

Girls provide a real problem when they leave home, for as a general rule they obtain work, elude their pursuers and seldom are heard from until years later, when they possibly marry. Such cases give rise to many of the so-called "white slave" traffic stories and usually turn out to be myths.

Boys are adventurers. Two recent instances prove this. Byron Romig of Burbank, youthful heir, with a companion, started for Kansas and his guardians enlisted the aid of the sheriff's office. He was located at a cousin's home in Nebraska. Frank Welch, 15-year-old Alhambra boy, left on October 24 for Kansas, also, with Howard Vonburg as his companion in a stripped Ford roadster. His parents instructed the sheriff's office to let them proceed if they met with no trouble crossing the California-Arizona desert.

When school grows trksome, many boys leave home and many go to sea. When parents interfere with the daughter's love affairs she slips away to live her own life and fear of scorn on their return causes many to stay away. They find work in canneries, cafeterias, 10-cent stores and sometimes get work as maids.

Movie-Struck Girls

Many girls now in Los Angeles came here to find fame in the movies. They failed, with the result they lose heart and fall to write home. They are located by investigators and in many instances provided with funds to return home.

Humor and pathos are blended in the search of older people for their kin. A woman from Nova Scotia trailed her delirious husband here and found him married again. The divorce courts revealed this case.

In the death of W. T. Young at Lomita last week his sisters, who had spent a fortune searching for him for the last thirty years, identified the body as that of their brother by a scar on his foot. All three had lived within fifteen miles of each other all that time.

As the old saying goes, "If you give a calf enough rope it will hang itself," and so it is with "missing" people. Their irresponsibility leads them into the byways of life and sooner or later they meet with tragedy, which brings them in contact with the law. Musty files are resurrected and the quest comes to an end, sometimes with jail at the end of the trail. In some instances they prosper, but more often they live, die and are buried without communicating with their homes.
